Independent living for seniors offers a choice of congregate housing designed especially for older adults 50, 55 or 62 years of age or older.

Independent living retirement communities (ILRC) provide many amenities such as restaurant style meals, housekeeping, security, laundry, transportation, social activities, a beauty/barbershop and more. Some may offer personal care services at an additional cost to the resident, as long as the resident is able to continue to function adequately in his/her environment.

There is no buy-in for independent living retirement communities, but an admission or registration fee may be charged. Monthly fees are based upon the size of the room and what additional services are provided.

Senior apartments offer modern one bedroom units and some may have two bedroom units. There are also apartments for the handicapped. Senior apartments may offer many amenities like security, laundry facilities, an exercise room, and gardens, but they do not provide meals, housekeeping or transportation.
